Delsey quality materials

The DELSEY GOPIX collection is manufactured with a 600D Polyester fabric over a PVC sponge backing. A unique double dyeing process gives the fabric a contrasting two-tone appearance. Because digital and PDA screens need extra protection from scratches, soft brushed velux covers the interior compartment. Thickly padded sides with water resistant fabric ensures that GOPIX bags will protect your gear for years to come.

Gopix materials put to the test

To ensure that only the best materials are used, the Delsey labs subject each component: fabrics, zippers, foams, etc. to extreme wear conditions.

Gopix - quality in every detail

Laminated in black metal, snap hooks and D-rings are completely rust-free. Buckles are made from flexible nylon to avoid breakage and ensure smooth operation.

Covered zippers

Function with style - a water resistant cover that creates smooth lines. All exterior sliders are designed with a smooth reverse closure system that creates an external and internal water resistant zipper cover eliminating the traditional cumbersome zipper flaps that often jam the zipper. Added protection creates the seamless Gopix look.

Mesh side and internal pockets

You'll find a multitude of useful mesh pockets on all the bags in the Gopix collection. Internal and external perfectly sized and positioned through years of listening to the needs of Delsey customers.

Well positioned straps and handles

Padded handles make holding a Gopix bag both comfortable and practical being perfectly positioned to lift the load.

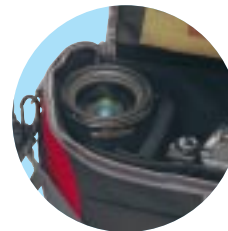

Attention to detail

Gopix protective style is thought through in every detail - right down to the zipper tabs. Large, coordinated fabric covered zipper tabs are easy to use and comfortable to hold.

Easy close easy open

Gopix bags feature grip tabs. Clasp the tab with the thumb and forefinger of one hand and with the other pull the zipper. A simple, neat idea that really works.

Flexible to suit your gear

Many Gopix bags feature removable velcro padded dividers. The fabric tabs on the padded dividers are made from a hook material which adheres to the interior loop fabric of the bag. Position the dividers anywhere to suit the contents.
